DESPAIR FOR FINTLOCKS.

Strange as it may appear, fintlock muskets are not merely a record of bygone ages. In 1895 no fewer than 1,820,000 gun flints were produced at the Loughborough mines, Brandon, Suffolk, England. These flints are chiefly to delight African and other savages, who, having been so long used to fintlocks, are reluctant to give them up.

The method of manufacturing these gun flints is very interesting. In the operation of "baking" the worker will take a "quarter" in his left hand, and placing it on his knee, around which a protecting band of leather has been strapped, gently tap the flint with a hammer, giving it each time a well directed blow. At every tap a flake of flint is dislodged and falls into his hand, and, if a good one, is deposited in a pile by his side, all bad ones being discarded. The workers work these flints with hammers with long, thin heads, often made of old files, transversely splitting the strips of flint on an iron stand in their machines.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Preachers and Railroads.

The announcement that the railroads throughout the country will continue during next year to grant half rates to clergymen has been received with unqualified satisfaction by a majority of the members of the clergies. But not by all. A prominent and respected preacher, commenting upon the matter, said: "I had hoped that the railroads were finally about to wipe out the semi-clerical privilege extended to the clergy. It is a relic of the times when preaching meant poverty, and under the changed conditions it is not only unfair to the railroads and the general traveling public, but it is also a relic of the past. The railroads have been charging under the clerical half fare system for a long time, and for several years some of them have been trying to do away with it. Times have changed since the church was poor and preachers underpaid, and the railroads people are quite sensible of the fact."—Philadelphia Record.

New Furniture Color.

Sealing wax red is a new color that is being much used in staining woods made up into odd pieces of furniture. The new stain is applied with equal success to white work in all its varieties and is a rich addition to decorative effects. Some very attractive settles are shown in this color, though the forest green finish, which has proved a most popular effect, is by no means discarded from favor.

Selling to the Quick.

"Henry, you look very pale. What's the trouble?"
"I was struck to the quick by an address this afternoon."
"How did it happen?"
"Way, I dropped in at the bank, and the bookkeeper told me my account was overdrawn."—New York Tribune.

A HOLIDAY SONG.

A little way from Workaday,
Down the small slope of mild desire,
There swings a gate to bar the way
With roses and sweetbrier,
While you and I, when time is ripe,
Upon its fragrant threshold stand
And look across the harvest fields
In fruitful Laisland.

In Laisland the breath, like balm,
Sighs from the mouth lips easily,
The eyes shine clear; the brow is calm;
The heart beats full and free;
There is no sound of foot nor strife,
Of urging call nor harsh command.
One drinks a fresh, sweet draft of life
In blessed Laisland.

The birds sing soft; the cushions cool;
The breeze just whispers to the flowers,
Deep lined with autumn as they fade,
To mark the peaceful hours;
The dancing brooklets wider sweep,
All voices where the blue flags stand,
Rocking the drowsy bees to sleep
In fruitful Laisland.

Then come while harvest moon is full,
Breath soft, when the dewing way
And whisper secrets to my soul,
Too dear for common day.
A little space for thee and me,
While heart is heart and hand in hand,
Apart from workaday,
We'll spend in Laisland.

—GEO. E. DOUGLAS.

Extracts from the Peking Gazette.

Imperial edicts, when printed in the Peking Gazette, are peremptory; there is no ambiguity about them. An article in Longshan's Magazine presents certain extracts from the Peking Gazette, and one shows how little is superstition in China.

The governor X reports, a number of incompetents; the prefect A, is an optimist and too fond of actors; the magistrate B, is a fellow of low and mercenary spirit. Let each be reduced one grade. The prefect C, is no fool, but he is getting old and feeble. Let him retire on his present rank. The magistrate D, is simply an idiot. Let him take charge of the local education department instead. The viceroys of Hinkang reports the descent to the earth from the clouds of a green lizard and the consequent sudden stoppage of the floods in nine districts. We are infinitely touched by this gracious evidence of the gods' intervention. The academy has been ordered to compose a suitable aphorism for engraving on a gorgeous tablet. The viceroys will proceed in full uniform, followed by the whole official body, to hang this tablet in the Moth's Eyebrows hall in order to prove to the local deity that we are not indisposed to requite his services. When the eclipse of the moon takes place tomorrow, let the proper authorities set up the usual howls and save the moon in due legal form.

Frankly Explained.

"I believe I saw you coming out of a rumshop this afternoon," said the Rev. Mr. Wilkins.
"I guess you did," said the parishioner.
"On business, I hope?"
"No. I will be candid with you. I went in to get a drink. You see, it was this way. I had a plugged quarter passed on me."
"Yes."
"And there are only two places a man can get rid of a plugged quarter—a church and a saloon. And of course I didn't want to pass it on the contribution box."
"Ah!"—Indianapolis Journal.

Another Year's Assailant.

The formation of a Vassar Alumnae Historical Society is announced, and an invitation to join has been sent to every alumna and former student who has taken one or more elective courses in history at Vassar college. The association has a threefold object—to strengthen the educational bond of union between the alumnae and their alma mater, to stimulate by reunion and communication an interest in historical work in whatever direction each member may have opportunity and to increase the number of works on history in the Vassar college library. The annual meetings are to be held at the college on the Saturday nearest Washington's birthday.

REFORM MAYOR OF CHICAGO.

Hon. George B. Swift Among the Endorsers of Paine's Celery Compound.

Hon. George B. Swift, Chicago's Reform Mayor, is one of the thousands who endorse the one great remedy that makes people well, where all other remedies either fail altogether, or at best simply give temporary relief.

Judge Powers, Congressman Meredith, of Virginia, Congressman Grant, Assistant United States Attorney John C. O'Casey, Chief Post Office Inspector M. D. Wheeler, Congressman Bell and Neil, Lieut. McAllister and many others who are fully as careful what they recommend, have publicly vouched for the marvellous powers of Paine's Celery Compound to make people well.

These, and the thousands of other hearty testimonials that have recently been sent to the proprietors of Paine's Celery Compound, are simply an index of what this most wonderful remedy is doing in every State of the Union, and in every city and village.

It is making people well!

Men like these, who have won the confidence of their fellow citizens in their reputations for sound judgment, having watched the splendid results from Paine's Celery Compound in their own families, and known exactly the invigorating effect that any sick person may expect from that great nerve-regulator and blood-purifier, are among the first to unhesitatingly and thankfully recommend the remedy to others for the public good they may do.

Says Mayor Swift: "The use of Paine's Celery Compound in my family has convinced me that it is a meritorious article."

Paine's Celery Compound restores the nervous energy and regulates the system.

It makes the blood pure and capable of carrying an abundance of brain and nerve elements to the weakened parts, and is thus able to permanently rid the body of sleeplessness, nervousness, neuralgia and dyspepsia.

Men and women who almost live at their work and are "run-down" and do their best work because of dyspepsia, rheumatism, and neuralgia, invariably find a permanent relief in Paine's Celery Compound.

Dyspepsia, persistent headache, and disordered liver needs prompt attention. In every case there is a positive and permanent cure in Paine's Celery Compound. It is the most earnest, conscientious remedy persons out-of-health can employ. Its life-giving effect upon "run-down" nerves and debilitated blood is nothing short of marvellous.

Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., brought to the study of nervous disorders and diseases of debility extraordinary professional enthusiasm. He and his able collaborators concentrated upon the discovery of an adequate remedy for these diseases all their energy.

Paine's Celery Compound is used by the best physicians in their own homes and prescribed to sufferers from all nervous diseases. It is within the reach of every one.

THE NEVADA LEGISLATURE.
THE EIGHTEENTH SESSION—
FORTIETH DAY.

The Incorporation Act and the Union Label Question.

CARSON, February 26, 1897.
The Senate was occupied to-day in the discussion of Senator Ernst's bill repealing the act providing for the use of the Union label on all printing done by the State Printing Office. The printers were out in force against the bill, and petitions from the Miners' and Mechanics' Unions of Gold Hill and Virginia were presented, asking for the defeat of the measure. The Senate seemed to be about equally divided and the debate was spirited. A running fire of questions came from the advocates for and against the bill, and further consideration was postponed until to-morrow. It is hard to tell how the matter will be settled, but the impression prevails that the bill will pass. Both sides present strong arguments to sustain their respective side of the question, but it is doubtful whether the repeal of the law is good policy now.

The Incorporation Act referring to the town of Reno now in the Senate Judiciary Committee is attracting considerable attention. Yesterday several Renoites appeared in favor of the act and to-day President Downing, W. O. H. Martin and Oscar Smith appeared before the committee and opposed the incorporation as far as the issuance of bonds for a new water works. The committee will sit again to-morrow and will hear the question discussed from all sides before reporting the bill to the Senate.

FIGHT NEWS.

Fitzsimmons and Corbett Doing Steady Work.

An old fashioned coach and six white horses appeared on Carson street yesterday, the ribbons being handled by one of the old time jehus. A banner with the strange device "Fitzsimmons' Headquarters," floated from the deck of the conveyance. Kodak and camera manipulators were out in force to get shots at the rig, and doubtless the metropolitan dailies will in a day or two be illustrated with cuts of the coach in several different positions.

Fitzsimmons is very exclusive and there is considerable grumbling at the coolness exhibited by him to news gath'ers and curiosity seekers. Corbett on the other hand is quite affable and does not hesitate to answer any reasonable question concerning the coming mill, and also appears on the street now and then for the edification of the general public. Corbett very generously tendered his sympathy to Martin Julian on account of the death of his mother, and also to Fitzsimmons, who is a son-in-law of the deceased lady, and offered to consent to a postponement of the fight if it was so desired.

The telegraph company is arranging matters, and as the business demands more operators are arriving and being put to work. It is expected to have a force of fifteen or twenty men on as the day of the fight approaches.

Additions are arriving daily to the corps of trailers of both men, and both men and the principles keep them all busy in the several hours of work that seems a necessity each day.

Dan Stuart, who has been confined to his room with illness ever since his arrival here, is now able to sit up, but does not attempt to appear on the streets. He took a severe cold and was threatened with pneumonia.

Seats for the fight are being reserved each day, but so far there is no great rush of applicants. It is probable that next week will bring a considerable demand.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gundertmar, of Diamonddale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While I was pastor of the Baptist Church at Rives Junction she was brought down with pneumonia succeeding La Grippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store. Regular size, 50 cts. and $1.

Former Renosites Heard From.

Assemblyman Norcross received a letter from Edward E. Hurdack of Johannesburg, South Africa, yesterday. Mr. Hurdack is a graduate of the School of Mines of the State University, and now holds next to the highest position in the mine where he is employed, having fifty white men and fifteen hundred negroes under his control. Fred Bristol, also a graduate of the University, is an underground surveyor. Both young men are under good salary and seem to be on the road to prosperity.

Caught the Legislature.

The Bloomer Girls were the main attraction to members of the Legislature this week. At their performance Thursday evening the members of both houses were out in force and seemed to enjoy the effects of colored lights and pink tights. Some of the old fellows were inclined to offer a resolution inviting them to give a second performance, but more staid members thought that the prize fight record they had made would be enough to immortalize them.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Great Weather Extremes During the Months of March and April. (Copyright, 1896, by W. T. Foster.)

St. JOSEPH, Mo., Feb. 27.—My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from March 1st, to 4th, and 6th, to 10th.

The next disturbance will reach the Pacific Coast about March 11th, cross the west of the Rockies by the close of the 12th, the Great Central Valleys March 13th to 15th, and the Eastern States the 16th.

The warm wave will cross the west of Rockies about March 11th, great central valleys March 13th the Eastern States the 15th. The cool wave will cross the west of Rockies about March 14th, the great central valleys the 16th, Eastern States March 18th.

March and April will go into partnership this year in weather making and the reversals caused by one of the planets in March, while they will cause great weather extremes in that month, they will have a decided influence on the temperature and rainfall of April.

This will interest farmers generally, for it will determine whether we are to have an early or a late spring. With good April rains, large yields of oats and grasses would be assured, while a dry April makes short grass and a poor yield of oats.

A cold April is very hard on gardeners, while a warm April brings them bountiful harvests. Watch these bulletins for April forecasts for the weather in that month caused by disturbances in March will go to extremes.

The above statements are of great interest to all except the northeastern States, because the rainfall of February and March will be so small that by the first of April a general drought will be feared.

With these conditions at the first of April it would be worth millions of dollars to agriculturists, dealers in the cereals and speculators to know what the weather of April May and June will be.

These bulletins will tell the truth four times out of five, and that is enough to insure success.

Farmers are now preparing to sow and plant in the dark because they are unable to see ahead, and because the Weather Bureau of the United States has failed to advance in their work far enough to tell them. If the farmers knew what to plant and sow and how, in order to suit the weather, what millions could be made thereby.

PRaise for Silver Republicans.

Bryan Says They Are Right in Keeping Up Their Organization.

Bryan was asked Wednesday night to give his opinion on the address issued by the Silver Republicans, and in response said:

"I believe they are right in continuing a separate organization as Silver Republicans. They were among the most effective supporters of bimetalism during the campaign, and since the election they have stood unshaken and undismayed. They do not consider themselves Democrats or Populists, and since they cannot affiliate with the Republican party while it stands for the gold standard, they have wisely decided to complete an organization and hold their forces together. In accepting the nomination of the National Silver party, I stated that we did not insist upon the Silver Republicans becoming Democrats, but that we accepted their support with the understanding that the same patriotism which directed them in 1896, would be present to direct them in 1900. The Democratic party deserves their confidence in the next campaign. Future events must determine what is wise in 1900."

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alternative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness, yield to Electric Bitters. Fifty cents and $1 per bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

The Nickel-in-the-Slot Machines.

The Carson authorities, taking their cue from District Attorney Julien of Washoe, passed an ordinance placing a license of $2.50 per day on all machines of this character, the same to go into effect on the 28th, so the proprietor of the various appliances distributed about Carson has gathered them in, and, like the Arab, "folded his tent and silently stole away."
